The Advocate's Special.

The special immigration edition of the Red Deer Advocate made its appearance on Saturday and is a very creditable edition for a town the size of Red Deer, in fact we doubt if a better has ever been published in the west outside the large cities. We are pleased to say we helped along the good work to a limited degree. There cannot be a shadow of a doubt but that the circulation of the paper broadcast over the continent will draw attention to the Red Deer District and cannot help but be of benefit to our town. We congratulate the Advocate on its enterprise and pluck in getting out such a splendid number.

Americans Not Wanted By The Liberals.

Peter Talbot's organ, the Lacombe Globe, of the 10th inst. made a scurrilous vicious and un-called for attack on Mr. and Mrs. Root. Mrs. Root in particular came in for a large share of the paper's ill natured venom. It is not customary for newspapers of Canada to openly attack women, but when the attack is made in the form of a fake interview, as a blind, no doubt, all self respecting readers of the paper will feel only contempt for the writer. The paper hurls insults at Mr. and Mrs. Root as Americans, and says the natives are getting sour on them, and they can get out of the country if they don't like it. If by natives the Globe means the Indians, Mr. Root will not worry very much. But if the Globe has reference to the settlers of this country, then Mr. Root has quite as much right to express his opinions against the evils of government, as any of the large majority of people who have come into the country since he settled here. The arrogant and autocratic language assailed by the Globe man is most offensive to Americans and can only result in adding votes to the cause of Mr. Root. The other day we showed the article in question to an American from Ohio, who stated that he had positively refused to vote for Mr. Root some time ago, but he would now vote for him.

Conservative Rally.

On Friday evening next the local Conservative club will be addressed by E. N. Day, Conservative candidate for Strathcona constituency. Mr. Day is the father of Daysland and one of the best known men of the north country. J. D. Hyndman, of Edmonton, president of the Provincial Conservative Association, will also be present and address the meeting. This will be a treat for Conservatives and their friends, and a strong rally is looked for.

R. C. Brumpton's New Quarters.

Thursday evening up to six o'clock R. C. Brumpton was doing business in his old stand. On Friday morning he was ready for business in his new premises, Ouimet and Wright's old quarters, and did a big day's trade. That is pretty lively work. Up to a late hour Thursday evening the staff was busy as bees moving over the immense stock, now the new quarters present a business like aspect as though they had already occupied their new store. The premises have been renovated and enlarged. The grocery department occupies the west store while the large east wing, which is 75 feet long, has been fitted up as a dry goods department, with plate glass front and in every other way a modern establishment. Steamheating will be added for next winter. A plate glass front will also be added to grocery department as soon as it can be procured.

Millinery Openings.

Misses Dow & Riddell, Alford's Block, held their millinery opening Friday and Saturday last. The opening was well attended by ladies and the display of millinery equal to anything seen in the city. These ladies received well merited praise for their splendid taste and rich display of goods. But owing to the wintry weather it was necessary to store many purchases until spring opens up.

Miss McLennan held her opening on Thursday, and her display was also first class.

It would probably have been wiser, from a business standpoint, for the ladies to have deferred their openings to a later date, when more springlike weather prevailed.

Gave Birth to Six.

Stuebenville, Ohio, March.—Six perfectly formed children born here to day to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Campbell. Three of the infants died within an hour after birth. One boy and a girl will live it is said. Three were boys. Mrs. Campbell weighs less than a hundred pounds. The combined weight of the infants were 23 pounds. Physicians declare the case to be the most remarkable known. Campbell is a mill worker and has four brothers. To the family of two of these, twins have been born, and each of the other brothers is father of triplets.

Campbell's first wife died after becoming the mother of triplets. Campbell was for twelve years in the United States navy and fought under Schley off Santiago two of his brothers are now with Admiral Evans' fleet in the Pacific.

Natural History Society Jaunt

The Natural History Society had a very successful trip to the Canyon on Saturday the 21st. The start was made at 8 a.m. sharp, comprising two slight loads, and was in charge of the redoubtable Captain Keast. The weather was most favourable, and travelling good. After going about 20 miles, the party turned, and camped at Christman's, enjoying a hearty meal in the open, round the roaring camp fire. The preparation which the ladies made for this emergency was more than equal to all demands made upon it, which speaks well for their care, and thoughtfulness. At 2 p.m. the Captain gave the order to inspect, and the halloo was given for the stragglers who had gone climbing and snaphooting. On the way home the party made stops at various points for geological investigations, and here Mrs. F. Tallman explained, which she is well able to do, the different formations, composition of strata, etc., etc., which was much appreciated. The party arrived home at exactly 7 p.m. after a most successful and happy expedition, singing "God Save the King," and with three cheers for the Captain. We hope that other trips of a similar nature may be organized in the future, as we feel assured that such expeditions would well repay the efforts, not to speak of the pleasure and information derived from a trip of this kind. The party consisted of: Dr. and Mrs. George, Captain Keast, Mrs. and Miss Flo Palmer, Mrs. Wanless, Miss Leeson, E. P. Graham, Guy Shynard, Rev. Moore, H. G. Munro, Mrs. Tullman, Mrs. and Miss Cuthingham, Mrs. G. W. Greene, Mr. Cowell, C. E. Len Gaetz and E. George.

THE TRAIN SERVICE.

A change in the train service will take effect on Monday, March 30. On the Edmonton section double service will be resumed. The passenger will leave Calgary daily at 7 a.m., arriving in Strathcona at 1 p.m. The second passenger will leave Calgary daily (except Sunday at 3 p.m.) arriving at Strathcona at 10:45 p.m. The passenger from Strathcona will leave daily (Sunday excepted) at 8:30 a.m., arriving at Calgary 1:30 p.m. The second passenger will leave Strathcona daily at 4 p.m., arriving at Calgary at 11:40 p.m. We understand full mail services are to be provided on all these trains.

The Panic At Ottawa.

That the government at Ottawa should be in a state of mind bordering upon panic, is, under the circumstances entirely reasonable. The Toronto Mail. Politicians are close observers of the signs of the times, and those of them who cannot see the gathering clouds are failures at the business. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues, whatever else may be said of them, are not blind to the political outlook. Ever on the alert, they can discern the changing public sentiment the moment the variation sets in. At the present moment they have good cause to feel that their sun is setting, and that the revolution which shall put an end to their regime is impending.

The first condition which convinces them that they are weak beyond responsibility of recovery is the state of the Cabinet compared with that of four years ago there are in the government today but two men whose names are familiar to the entire country. The other ministers are comparatively unknown, and are much smaller in calibre than the men of other days. How many people know who the Ministers are? How many are aware that there are in the Cabinet, ruling the country, gentlemen by the name of Templeman and Bureau? The efforts to give vitality to the decaying Ministry have been distinct failures. Mr. Aylesworth although a good lawyer, is not a success as a politician, and Mr. Graham the new Ontario leader, by reason of his connection with the machines, is a source of weakness and not of strength.

Mr. Pugsley who came in with a great flourish of trumpets, the public man who was to give force to the party in the East, and was to achieve victories hitherto impossible, has proven himself to be exceedingly unfortunate and absolutely wanting in influence. The more liberal his offers of corrupt considerations to the people the more decisive the declaration against him. While the government is barren in the matter of personality, while it can boast of no man of commanding business ability or of great capacity for statesmanship, it suffers again because of its freedom from anything of the nature of purpose or policy. It cannot be said of it that it has any reason d'être, or that it will do anything useful to the country that another government will not do. With nothing in its favor, there is, on the other hand, an over whelming case against it. Its procession of grafters, its terrible system of "rake offs," which would be tolerated in no regular business combine to make it unpopular among the better men of all parties there can be little doubt that the evil character of the dying Administration has contributed to the destruction of Liberal influence in the various provinces. In Ontario the Liberal designation does not stand for what it represented ten years ago. It is no longer a synonym for economy, freedom and honesty. Instead of attracting the rising generation because of the principles it proposes to enforce, it is repellent because of the wrongs that are perpetrated in its name. In Manitoba, British Columbia and New Brunswick the Federal ministers went forth to capture the provincial citadels for their allies, and in each case they have been overwhelmingly defeated. The very circumstance that the Ottawa Government seek to win a province is a signal for a Conservative triumph.

The situation may well bring dismay to the Federal Ministers. It may well make them hesitate touching the choice they will make on the question of a general election. But the position is not unnatural. A government, after twelve years of office, gets stale, and the people wearying of it, yearn for a change. This is particularly the case where all sorts of wrong doing is practised, and where an autocratic attitude is assumed by the hard pressed offenders. The long term, united with the grafting and the absence of honest purpose, are having their effect. While the Government scarcely knows which way to turn, the people ought to be ready for any emergency. Alarm may precipitate a rush for cover, and for this reason the dilemma of to day ought not to be allowed to interfere with the preparations for the final encounter.

That Yukon Inquiry.

The Christian Guardian in discussing the Pringle charges says: "The Hon. Mr. Oliver, on March 2, laid on the table of the Dominion House the correspondence which has passed between himself, Rev. John Pringle of the Yukon, and the Commissioner of the Yukon, in reference to certain grave charges made by Mr. Pringle against two of the government officials in the Yukon. The correspondence was very voluminous. Mr. Pringle who is a Presbyterian minister in the Yukon, sent his accusations directly to the Minister of the Interior, who thereupon instructed Commissioner Henderson to fully investigate them, and to give the accused every opportunity to establish the truthfulness of his charges. But when Mr. Pringle learned that the Commissioner had no power to compel witnesses to appear and testify under oath, he refused to make any attempt to substantiate his charges. The Commissioner seems to have understood and sympathized with Mr. Pringle's contention, for he applied to the Minister at Ottawa for the necessary powers to enable him to compel the attendance of witnesses and secure their sworn testimony. The Minister of the Interior, however, said he saw no necessity for giving the Commissioner such power in the case, and he refused his request. We think most of our readers, under the circumstances, will agree with the Globe of March 4, when it says: "The request for an inquiry conducted under this commonly used and easily afforded safeguard was, under the circumstances, a perfectly reasonable one, and it is not easy to understand why it was refused. Public opinion will not throw responsibility for failure on Dr. Pringle until some adequate reason is forthcoming." We think when such grave charges are made by a man of Mr. Pringle's standing, Canadian public opinion will not justify the method that has been adopted in this case.

The Canadian Press Association made up of representatives of Canadian newspaper publications at a conference held in Toronto recently adopted a resolution asking that steps be taken to place weekly and monthly publications on the same footing in regard to rates as and from the United States as dailies are now.

The pronouncement by the newspaper men is in accordance with the opinion held by the overwhelming majority of the people of Canada. Supporters of the barbarous system under which almost prohibitive restrictions are placed on the chief means of intercourse between two kindred people are found only among the small but noisy faction of jingoes and the narrowest of the exclusionists in the Manufacturers' Association. The principal of the system will have to be restored some time, and the sooner restoration takes place the better it will be for all concerned.

Choral Society.

The object of this society which holds its second entertainment Tuesday March 31st at 8 p. m. sharp is to raise the standard of music in our town and to bring forward from the ranks of citizens voices that are deserving of recognition. This society organized last October and on December 5th gave a very creditable performance indeed and since then have been practising diligently for their spring concert which comes off on the above named date.

Mr. Foulds in conversation with the News man stated that this young aggregation of singers were doing work that his choir in the old home did during their sixth session so Red Deer may well feel proud of her musicians.

The sale of seats opened to day and tickets may be procured from any member of the society. Upon purchasing your tickets take them to Wallace & Gaetz's store where the plan of seats is to be seen and have them marked in good time so as to avoid all confusion. The price is only 50 cents and now many times have we all paid a dollar to see a sham concert by outside talent. We should patronize this enterprising society of young musicians and perhaps some day Red Deer may boast a Society of 150 voices instead of 40 voices so let us help them along.

There is one thing absolutely certain, that the concert will start at 8 o'clock sharp if there are only ten people present so be in your place at ten minutes to eight persons coming late will not be ushered to their seats while a number is being rendered. It is as easy to be early as late and the programme being fairly long it will probably be nearly 10 o'clock when completed. Promptness is one motto of this Choral Society.

Remember that when the Stomach nerves fail or weaken, Dyspepsia or Indigestion must always follow. But strengthen these same weak inside nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and then see how quickly health will again return. Weak Heart and Kidney nerves can also be strengthened with the Restorative, where Heart pains, palpitation, or Kidney weakness is found. Don't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is wrong. Go to the cause of these ailments. Strengthen these weak inside nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and you will get a simple single test surely tell. Brown's Pharmacy.

Cut This Out And Save It.

There is so much Rheumatism in our neighborhood now that the following advice by an eminent authority, who writes for readers of a large Eastern daily paper, will be highly appreciated by those who suffer:

Get from any good pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces of Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake these well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime; also drink plenty of good water.

It is claimed that there are few victims of this dread and torturous disease who will fail to find ready relief in this simple home-made mixture, and in most cases a permanent cure is the result.

This simple recipe is said to strengthen and cleanse the eliminative tissues of the Kidneys so that they can filter and strain from the blood and system the poisons, acids and waste matter, which cause not only Rheumatism, but numerous other diseases. Every man or woman here who feels that their kidneys are not healthy and active, or who suffers from any urinary trouble whatever, should not hesitate to make up this mixture, as it is certain to do much good, and may save you from much misery and suffering after while.

Our home druggists say they will either supply the ingredients or mix the prescription ready to take if our readers ask them.

Old Rates Must Be Restored.

The Canadian Press Association made up of representatives of Canadian newspaper publications at a conference held in Toronto recently adopted a resolution asking that steps be taken to place weekly and monthly publications on the same footing in regard to rates as and from the United States as dailies are now.

The pronouncement by the newspaper men is in accordance with the opinion held by the overwhelming majority of the people of Canada. Supporters of the barbarous system under which almost prohibitive restrictions are placed on the chief means of intercourse between two kindred people are found only among the small but noisy faction of jingoes and the narrowest of the exclusionists in the Manufacturers' Association. The principal of the system will have to be restored some time, and the sooner restoration takes place the better it will be for all concerned.

The Coming Musical Festival.

Mr. S. W. Morris of Edmonton has been in the town recently to receive entries for the Alberta Musical Festival to be held in Edmonton on May 5th. There will be competitions for choirs, double quartettes, male quartettes, male voices, amateur vocalists pianist. The competition which will take place during the day will be judged by Rheis Thompson of Winnipeg. In the evening a grand massed concert will be held at which all the choirs will sing collectively accompanied by an orchestra of over 200 pieces. The winners of the other competitions will also perform at the Concert. The prizes are 3 silver shields, 7 gold medals and 4 silver medals. It is expected that over 200 voices will sing at the evening Concert. There are no entry fees and the C. P. R. are giving the round trip for a single fare. Full information and entry forms may be had from L. M. Gaetz which must be returned not later than April 11 to M. D. Silas of Edmonton. A good number of entries have already been received from Red Deer.

WHO PAYS FOR YOUR ADVERTISING?

Who pays the cost of advertising? At first sight this is a question easy to answer. One is apt to say of hand that the advertiser pays it. But upon closer investigation, it becomes apparent that an advertiser, who advertises properly, gets back all the money he spends in advertising, and a good deal more—else what would be the use of his advertising?

The purchaser doesn't pay it, because he gets the goods as cheaply from an advertising firm as he could from a non-advertising firm. In many cases he buys cheaper. Then who pays the cost of advertising?

The non-advertiser does! By the lack of enterprise in bringing his goods before the attention of the public he loses customers, who buy from advertising people. The profits which are lost by non-advertisers find their way into the coffers of those who do advertise.

As an example: If $20 spent in advertising brings you in $30 additional profit, your advertising is paid for and you are $10 in pocket. —From The Bookkeeper and Stationer, February, 1907.

$100.00 paid by Dr. Shoop for any case of Grippe or acute Cold that a 25 cent box of Preventives will not break. How is this for an offer? The Doctor's supreme confidence in these little Candy Cold Cure Tablets—Preventives—is certainly complete. It's $100 against 25 cents—pretty big odds. And Preventives, remember, contain no quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Pneumonia would never appear if early colds were always broken. Safe and sure for feverish children. 48 Preventives 25c. Brown's Pharmacy.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! A remedy that will drive the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, not turn heavy eyelids back to each eyelid. That is impossible. But I can now surely will the pains and pangs of Rheumatism. In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfect, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, I can cure all curable cases of this horrid disease, most dreaded disease. These same like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need of actual exercise to suffer longer with rest help. We sell, and in confidence recommend.

THE NEW BRUNSWICK TIDAL WAVE.

The people of Canada can discern the writing on the wall in the late election in New Brunswick. The St. John Sun, the mouthpiece of the Liberal Government, said only a few days before the election:

"For Liberals as a party this campaign has a new significance. For the first time, the provincial government is straight Liberal in personnel, in sympathy and affiliations, and makes its first appeal on straight party lines. Its defeat would mean Liberal disaster. It would be hailed all over Canada as a great Conservative victory, as evidence that Laurier was losing his hold that a tidal wave was forming in the Maritime provinces which would later sweep him from power. Mr. Hazen, who professes to be a coalition leader and yet has but one Liberal candidate on his ticket throughout the province, would not be in office a week before he would throw off his disguise and begin to lay a foundation for a Conservative victory in the next federal campaign."

"These are the issues briefly and fairly stated upon which the electors of New Brunswick must decide next Tuesday. For, and the Sun, which has faith in this province, and in the enterprise of its people has no doubt of that decision."

The tidal wave struck New Brunswick on schedule time and, if the Liberal organ is to be believed, the party of graft will now be swept from power by this great wave which is sweeping over this broad Dominion. The next provinces to roll into line will be Alberta and Saskatchewan.

But it is most interesting to note the change of tune of the Liberal papers since the above election. Now they one and all acknowledge it was time for a change in New Brunswick. They claim the result has no significance to the rest of the Dominion. They wish to convey the impression that the result in no way foreshadows the downfall of the Ottawa administration.

But there are none so blind as those who will not see. The signs are multiplying thick and fast that the electors of Canada will, at the first opportunity offered them, heave the Laurier Government from power, and the great tidal wave continues to advance.

The Toronto Globe, the Christian Guardian, and many Liberal papers condemn the Government for not giving Commissioner Henderson, of the Yukon, power to compel witnesses to give testimony against government officials charged with serious offences. The Edmonton Bulletin defends the government in the course it has taken. Of course a paper that receives over $46,000 in printing from the government has got to do something to earn its salary.

It seems an awful farce when one comes to think of it, for the people of this province to pay a royalty of 10 cents a ton to the Dominion Government for every ton of their own coal, pay inspectors to inspect the mines, build roads to them, and in fact bear all other costs in connection therewith, and let the Dominion Government reap all the benefit. It is about time the people got a little out of their coal lands.

The Budget In A Nutshell.

For nine months ending March 31, 1907, the national debt was reduced by $3,000,000. For the fiscal year ending the 31st of the present month the national debt will have increased by $12,000,000. The revenue for the closing year was $96,500,000. For the coming year Mr. Fielding expects less revenue, probably not to exceed $90,000,000.

The estimates already brought down for next year amount to $118,000,000.

The debt will largely increase each year hereafter.

The National Transcontinental Railway has cost $28,000,000 to date, and $30,000,000 additional will be expended this coming year. The Government will have to pay $5,500,000 to take over what remains of the Quebec bridge.

The Government has borrowed $31,000,000 during the last eight months in London and Paris.

In order to move grain last season the Government loaned to the banks $5,315,000, all of which but $965,000 has been repaid.

Mr. Fielding proposes to provide for an emergency currency during the crop season.

Some amendments will be proposed by the Government respecting the excise duties on tobacco.

It is reported that Mr. Emmerson is to be appointed either to the Railway Commission as its head at present, or to the new section of the board. As Minister of Railways Mr. Emmerson may have become acquainted with matters that would fit him for such an appointment, but he is still under a cloud. He resigned his position in the Government for the express purpose of fighting the "Beasts at Ephesus," which by the way he did not fight, but ran away instead. He was going to vindicate his good name before the people of Canada. Then he would again return to the Government benches. He has not done this and it would seem unwise to elevate to the bench a man of such strong party prejudices, and who is not apparently qualified to hold the portfolio of railways.

It is as a part of a deal that the placing of Mr. Emmerson on the Railway Commission is spoken of. This gentleman represents Westmoreland, N. B. If he can be got out of the way, Mr. Robertson, the defeated Premier of New Brunswick, can be provided for by the Federal politicians in whose behalf he has been working. The seat for Westmoreland would be a promotion for him, and would remove him from the sphere in which he has been unsuccessful. But the payment for party services in the local arena ought not to be made in this way. Such deals are improper, and the more so if, in order to carry them through, a judicial appointment of an undesirable kind has to be made.

The Conservative party will never be found carrying the best interests of the Dominion, but ever rejoice in anything that will tend to advance the general prosperity.

THE SENATE ELECTION.

(Calgary Herald.)

"Heavy on Calgary for the University Senate," said the graduates of Edmonton who, by force of numbers, controlled the election. So they got busy and elected three Edmonton men, one Strathcona man and one MacLeod man. The Chancellor will, for the present at least, be permitted to live in Calgary.

"Heavy on the dignity of the Senate," said the Edmonton graduates. So they cast their votes for a chairman of a board of trustees, a deputy minister of agriculture, a principal of a rural high school and a superintendent of the public schools. Three of these eminently fitted personages live in Edmonton and one in Strathcona.

"Heavy on making the University a Provincial institution," said the broad minded Edmonton graduates. So they kept four fifths of the senate within their own bailiwick.

Isn't it funny.

We move in amendment that the name of the University be changed to "The University of Edmonton."

POSITIONS OPEN TO ALL REPUTABLE CITIZENS.

St. John, N. B. March 20.—A resolution was adopted at the closing session of the Orange Grand Lodge declaring its disapproval of the practice of politicians in assuming because a public officer held certain faith, his successor should be of the same persuasion. Public positions should be filled by reputable citizens, irrespective of race or creed.

All Eyes on Calgary.

Spokane, Wash., March 20.—Trustees of the Spokane chamber of commerce at an executive meeting March 17, accepted the invitation by E. L. Richardson to attend the Dominion exposition at Calgary, June 20 to July 4, and E. E. Goodall, president of the organization, appointed a committee to arrange for an excursion, a special train leaving Spokane for the exposition at the rate of $1.00 per person. It is expected that from 125 to 200 men and women will join the party.

The committee in charge of the arrangements is composed of Robert H. Coggrave, secretary and manager of the Spokane Interstate Fair association; Harry L. Bleeker, secretary of the Washington Water Power commission; E. M. Var, Diesel, president of the Phoenix Lumber Co.; E. F. Waggoner, president of the Union Fuel & Ice company and E. T. Coman, vice president of the Traders National bank.

Levi G. Menzies, secretary of the chamber of commerce, said of the pilgrimage to the province of Alberta.

"The business men of Spokane have expressed a lively interest in the development of the new territory north of us and they are eager to visit it to see what has been done in the last few years. We will put in the entire day at Calgary on the Fourth of July. We will leave Spokane at Cranbrook, Fernie and Banff, returning home July 6."

ADVERTISING MAKES THE TOWN GO.

A writer in printer's ink makes an interesting diagnosis of the reason why some towns are "down." He says: "Anybody who has had experience traveling among the small cities and towns of this country knows that wide differences are seen between places of the same population and enjoying what would seem to be equal opportunities for trade. One place of 10,000 people for instance, will be thoroughly alive, it shops bright, its people on every hand. Another perhaps but 25 miles away, will be thoroughly dead, its stores deserted, dull, dusty, its people given to the habit of cracker-box conversation. In one town it is a pleasure to stop at a train and look for business, while in the second an experienced travelling man has no sooner alighted than he wants to know the time of the next train out."

The diagnosis is ridiculously simple. In one, the newspapers encourage live advertising by charging a rate which includes setting up new ads. as often as the merchant desires. In the other, an antiquated rate system is in vogue, making a large charge for space and an extra charge for every change of advertisement. It's just worth noting that the live advertising by the merchants does for a town and its trade. From The Canadian Grocer, August 23, 1907.

Wages Board In Sweated Industries.

Editor The News, Red Deer.

Sir— Apropos of the recent interest addressed by R. L. Gaetz, and the trenchant criticism of the same by Mr. Olson, in your columns, may I ask you to print the enclosed speech by Mr. Villiers in the British House of Commons. In reference to the "menace to the people of Europe" spoken of by Mr. Gaetz, in his address, it is undoubtedly true that the government of Britain is passing a large number of very advanced measures, for the greater well being of the people, but where in, may I ask, lies the "menace to the people"? a government so largely representative of the vast majority of the people as the present British government, can hardly, in carrying forward the platform of the people, be a "menace to be feared by the people."

The conditions prevailing in England at the present time, demand a personal acquaintance, before presuming a "menace" which the people do not know exists, unless the elected representatives of the people are a menace to the same people, which would be a "redundant and absurd."

It is an admirable thing to develop interest in the affairs of the world, in the somewhat self-absorbed West, and therefore the interesting views of Mr. Gaetz and Mr. Olson are sure to be appreciated. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for publishing the enclosed speech which requires no comment.

I am yours truly,

C. K. WRIGHT.

SPEECH IN THE HOUSE.

BY MR. E. VILLIERS.

Speaking yesterday in the House of Commons on the motion for the second reading of the Sweated Industries bill, after a speech by Sir F. Blandy.

Mr. Villiers said: "I would remind the hon. Baronet, the Member for the City of London, that as a Director of a Railway he has accepted the principle of Wages Boards, in the determination arrived at the other day under the President of the Board of Trade. (Hear, hear.) I have not risen, Mr. Speaker, with the intention of making a speech, but to 'side-track' this discussion on sweating into a debate on Tariff Reform. My only excuse for intruding in this debate at all is that only six months ago, when I was a member of the House of Commons, I introduced a bill in the House of Commons, which I called the Wages Board system in Victoria, on which I see this Bill is almost entirely founded. I had opportunities there of discussing the matter with Sir Alexander Peacock, who is the father of the Wages Board system there, and I can tell the House that the system there works splendidly (hear, hear), so much so that other States are now giving up their Arbitration Courts in favor of it. (Hear, hear.)"

In these days when there is so much wild talk of Socialism and anti-Socialism, theoretical Socialism and practical Socialism, it is something to be able to observe how these measures work out in practice. Here in this country you only see Socialism in the pattern, but there you see it in the piece. Here it is only got to a red tie or two (laughter), but out there it is a garment worn and enjoyed by the multitude. (Cheers.)

NOT AFRAID OF SAFE SOCIALISM. I am not afraid of Socialism so long as it is a safe Socialism, and so long as it does not substitute one class legislation for another. (Hear, hear.) But this is not class legislation. Out of 49 Boards appointed in various trades in Victoria, least one-fourth were asked for by the employers themselves. (Cheers.) The better employers court these Boards as by them they are secured against the unfair competition of less scrupulous men of their own craft, while the employed are saved by these Boards from too low wages, too long hours, and excessive child labour. I need not point out how these safe features would ease the unemployment problem. These Boards have the advantage also of being more of a voluntary than of a coercive nature, and their decisions are frequently compromises. Few, if any, strikes have occurred where the wage determination was in force. (Hear, hear.) These Boards have the further decided advantage of dispensing with the cost of legal proceedings; and even in this House, where the learned legal profession is so well represented, — is it one in six? — I think hon. members, the bench lawyers, will agree that it is better that these disputes should be settled by men who understand and know the ramifications of their own trades than by Judge and Counsel who must in this be jack of all trades and masters of none. (Hear, hear.)

These Boards are established by men who understand and know the ramifications of their own trades than by Judge and Counsel who must in this be jack of all trades and masters of none. (Hear, hear.)

After discussion the Bill was read a second time.

RIVER OF SALT WATER.

Flows Inland in a Greek Island and Then Disappears.

One of the most curious phenomena of geography is found on the southern coast of the island of Cephalonia, near Greece. It is a stream of salt water which for an unknown period has left the almost tideless sea and flowed inland with considerable volume.

The sea enters the land at four points where the coast is practically on a level with the salt water surface. The four initial streams unite to form the little river that flows inland in a broken rocky channel until it finally disappears in the limestone rock and sinks into the earth.

This inland flow has continued almost certainly for several centuries. It is far too great for removal by evaporation, chemical combination or even physical absorption by pores or caverns in the rocks. What becomes of the water that is constantly flowing inland and disappears finally in the fissures that have opened in the limestone?

"The question has been the subject of much study, but no conclusive answer has been given. It is probable that there is an underground channel which carries the water back into the sea at no great depth below the surface. The constant influx of salt water at Cephalonia is duplicated as far as is known at no other point of the world."

SPORTS AND THE SPHERE.

The Basic Pursuit in Most Games Is to Drive a Ball.

Some day there will arise a patient investigator who will work out this problem. Why are most sports but the variants of one object, the propulsion of a sphere?

Billiards, baseball, polo, golf, slinging, marbles, squash, handball, football, netball, cricket, hockey, bagatelle, tennis, shooting, points—the basic pursuit in each is to drive a ball, the propulsion of a sphere.

"Tiptoe, shuttlecock and top spinning are the employment of modification of the sphere, and archery is but another method of propulsion."

It is a strange limitation of form, and there must be a reason. Those who delve into origins may ascribe the whole motive of sports to some long-armed, hirsute ancestor who first threw a pebble at a fellow cave dweller and found it great fun.

Or it may be poor mortals attempt to get in a small fashion into the tremendous scheme of the universe, which is the everlasting movement of the spheres. Or it may be that sports are framed in inevitable obedience to some irresistible law of nature.

At any rate the fact is sports are based on the propulsion of the sphere, and some one ought to find a reason therefor.

Dangerous Golf.

One of the rules of the Weston-super-Mare (England) Golf club reads: "A ball may be lifted and dropped with the loss of a stroke when played within the railings surrounding the powder magazine." There appears to be an element of danger in this kind of golf which reminds a London writer of a certain golf course on the West African coast, where the clubs and clubs are always optional, as several golfers are said to have been lost there owing to the proximity of the jungle, which is known to be a favorite lair of the lion.

Where the Difference Lay.

"One of his complaints against his wife in the divorce suit," and the lawyer, "was that she smoked cigarettes." "Oh, my goodness! And whenever he comes to see me," cried the beebled girl, "I smoke and smoke!" "Oh, he doesn't mind other women smoking cigarettes," declared the lawyer. "He likes it. It is only his wife."

For the Defense.

The first monthly meeting was held in the school house on Saturday, the 14th, but unfortunately the inclement weather prevented many promised new members from making their appearance, but under the circumstances we must be contented to know that we brought 4 new members to the fold. The subject occupying the chief attention at the present moment is the much needed Government pork packing establishment. After a little discussion it was resolved that the Secretary Treasurer write to our M.P.P. asking him to do his utmost to get the Government pork packing establishment, to be operated by the Government. S. Grimsen, C. Johnson, and A. J. Lindman were appointed a committee to solicit the farmers of Burnt Lake and surrounding district to sign a petition re the establishing of a Government pork packing plant to be forwarded to the Minister of Agriculture.

A Correction.

To the public:— I wish to correct the wrong impression conveyed by a paragraph of an article entitled "Leslieville Union Church" which appeared in The News of March 11th. In this paragraph the statement is made that "every motion was put to a vote before the public, and all are in favor of having the Leslieville Union Church." The impression given is that a motion was made that this church be known as the "Leslieville Union Church" and that all the public approved, but the writer has apparently been mistaken.

At the beginning of the public meeting held at Mr. E. Bureau's on Feb. 22nd, a motion was made and carried that a Union church be erected in the neighborhood of Leslieville. Before the close of the meeting a suggestion was made by the chairman, John Reilly, that the church should be formally known as the "Leslieville Union Church," but the suggestion was not received with favor, and the question was apparently dropped, which proves conclusively that "all" are not in favor of having the church known by that name. The writer, of course, did not put to a vote as the paragraph seems to imply.

To my mind, the village of Leslieville has nothing whatever to do with the matter. The Union church is a country church, and is being built by the generous co-operation of the country people, and aspires to no higher distinction than that gained by serving them; if it is necessary to name it at all, call it "The People's Union Church," for it belongs to them. I write as an individual, not as a committee member.

A DEFICIT OF $12,000,000.

Mr. Fielding Presents Budget to Starred House.

Ottawa, March 17.—There were cheers when Mr. Fielding rose to begin his budget this afternoon. Before long the cheering died away, and a silent startled House heard with astonishment and dismay, a budget without precedent in the history of Canada. The Minister lingered long upon his record for the nine months ending March 31, 1907. His followers applauded freely when, for that period he figured out surplus of three million dollars. It was the last applause that greeted him. He followed this cheerful opening by confessing that the current year ending on the 31st, he would only suggest a deficit of two million dollars. But worse remained. Those who recall Mr. Fielding's buoyant presence in happier days could sympathize with the harassed Minister of Finance. The afternoon confided to a startled parliament that for the coming year he anticipated a falling off in the revenues and an increase in the expenditures of the Government, which would bring the country on March 31, 1908 face to face with the tremendous deficit of $12,000,000.

The Minister touched upon other matters of interest. He had advanced $5,000,000 to the banks last Autumn to move the crops, issuing Dominion notes without the required reserve, for which he asked the ratification of Parliament. It has been suggested that for the future some amendment to the Banking Act should allow the banks to issue an emergency circulation to be taxed by the Government. It appears according to Mr. Fielding that our currency at present is not sufficiently "elastic."

The Minister referred to the disastrous middle of the Quebec bridge. It is the intention of the Government to pay off the debt of this company, exceeding five million dollars, and by securing its bonds, already guaranteed by the Government, to acquire what remains of the broken bridge.

MR. FOSTER'S CRITICISM.

Hon. Geo. E. Foster followed in a speech which ranks among the masterpieces of Parliament disquisition. He pointed out the favorable circumstances which had surrounded the Liberal party when it came into power in 1896 and the wonderful good fortune which has permitted them to so long continue in office. He pointed out the inordinate taxation and unbridled expenditure, Canada, he said, had shared in the great cycle of world wide prosperity, closing 1907. Only now was the Finance Minister brought face to face with the rock ahead towards which he had been sailing with reckless speed. He had taxed the people to the limits of endurance; he had contracted liabilities for the Transcontinental which would ultimately amount to $140,000,000; and huge liabilities were maturing for which he had made no provision.

Mr. Foster took up every department of the Government, and showing the frightful extravagance which characterized the men who in opposition had denounced as "appalling" the estimates of $88,000,000 for 1904, now announced their own estimates for 1908 at $118,000,000 and supplementary estimates might swell this amount to $140,000,000. He dwelt with scathing indignation upon the high handed practices of the Government. The Finance Minister had not scrupled to lay hands upon the reserve set apart to secure the integrity of our financial system without authority of Parliament. He had laid violent hands upon the strong box of the nation.

When Mr. Foster concluded there was loud applause that lasted for several minutes.

Alberta Senate Is Complete.

Edmonton, March 20.—The announcement of the personnel of the new senate of the province of Alberta has been made to-day, and is as follows: Ex-officio, Mr. Justice Stuart, Calgary, chancellor, Hon. A. C. Rutherford, Strathcona; H. N. Tory, Edmonton. Appointed: Mr. Justice Beck, Edmonton; P. J. Nolan, K.C., Calgary; R. J. Hutcheson, Calgary; G. Galbraith, Lethbridge; N. K. Strath, Lacombe; O. Lloyd, Medicine Hat; Rev. J. H. Riddell, Edmonton; R. G. Brett, Banff; J. A. McDougall, Edmonton; J. J. Getz, Red Deer.

Elected: Dr. W. D. Ferris, chairman of Alberta board of trustees; Geo. Harcourt, deputy minister of agriculture; T. S. Jenkins, principal of Strathcona high school; and Mr. McChesney, superintendent of Edmonton public schools.

The senate will meet Saturday. Professor Tory goes south to Calgary to confer with Mr. Justice Stuart, re meeting.

BIRD FLIGHT.

Some Curious Facts About the Size of Wings and Bodies.

In the attempt to discover some universal law of bird flight scientists have discovered a number of species a most puzzling paradox, perhaps the most mysterious of the enigmas that the subject presents. It is that in number of instances insects the size of the wings decreases in proportion to the increase in size of the body of the flying creature. The Australian crane, for instance, weighs over 300 times more than the sparrow, but in proportion has only one-seventh the wing area of the smaller bird.

This curious fact is equally striking if we compare birds with insects. If the crane were increased in size until it was as large as the Australian crane and if the wings of the insect were enlarged to maintain the proportion they now bear to its body they would be about 150 times larger than the crane's.

It requires 3.02 square feet of wing area per pound to lift the bank swallow, but to sustain the heavy crane, a monstrous bird in comparison, requires only .08 of a square foot of wing surface per pound of body.

The ostrich, weighing eighteen pounds, has a spread of wing of eleven feet six inches, while the trumpeter swan, weighing 1,000 pounds, has a spread of wing of only eight feet. The crane weighs eight times more than the pigeon, but in proportion has only half as much wing surface. Everybody's Magazine.

PALFREY FOR DINNER.

It Was Not Horzefleish, However, That Dr. Johnson Ate.

Dr. Johnson in his journal mentions the interesting fact that he had on a certain day had "palfrey for dinner." Now, these three words have caused not a little trouble to the critics, and for this reason, that they know not what palfrey really is. It has been suggested that palfrey is a clerical error made by the doctor himself for pastry, but the doctor wrote so lightly that there is so much difference between the words palfrey and pastry that this position is not at all tenable. Prof. Webster in Johnson's celebrated dictionary as "a small horse fit for ladies," and some have thought that the doctor (whose feats as a trencherman were notorious) may have broken a record on the day in question and disposed of a small horse. All these and other conjectures are correct, and we will proceed to give the correct explanation.

The word palfrey (sometimes palfrey) by the interchange of l and n is still in use among the natives of Scotland and the north of Ireland and means rough baggage when they first came to talk the English. Such baggage have not begun to "cleave" or be "one solid in the center. They are a variety of spoken of as "barney palfreys" and are considered a luxury. Dr. Johnson probably picked up the word from his friend Boswell or from some other Scotch acquaintance. —London Notes and Queries.

A Good Medicine.

Laughter and not zulus irena's, but it's good medicine—keep the spirit bright, the heart light and free the number of red corpuscles. Perhaps that is the reason one sees so few people about as cheerful as a team.

A man who was very ill was visited by his doctor, one of those lugubrious creatures about as cheerful as a team. He assumed the properly dejected air and inquired of the sick man where his friends were in case they need be notified and asking if he had any last request.

"Yes, one," the patient answered. "What is it?"

"I wish I had another doctor."

A Curious Embrace.

Rattlesnake oil is preserved and prepared very carefully for use as a liniment in some parts of the world. The enthusiasm and mere joints are the ailments in which it is chiefly employed. The fat is taken from the dead reptile and it is in a cloth in the hot sun, from which the flier oil drips into a jar. From fear that the reptile may be bitten if it is clear oil is tested by dropping a portion of it into milk. If it does in one globe it is regarded as uninfected. If it breaks into beads and curdles the milk it is judged to be poisonous and thrown away.

The Pear Cat.

A young wife called her husband on the telephone to tell him a tale of woe in her choked accents she said: "That you, dear, I wish you were that lovely chicken pie I made you that horrid old cat came in and ate it up before I could stop it."

He answered, "Never mind, darling; I'll get you another cat."

His Symptoms.

"Maybe the boy and yours will be famous some day," said the friend.

"I shouldn't be surprised," answered Farmer Courtessell; "he does like to wear curious clothes and say 'things' but sounds more surprising than sensible."

Her Discharge.

"Why did you leave your last place?"

"Sure, I was discharged for doing 'em wrong."

"Discharged for doing well? Why, where were you?"

"I was in the hospital, mum."

Lobstick Valley.

[Too late for last week.]

After the few days of spring weather we have recently enjoyed, the present cold snap is not agreeable.

The hauling of the logs for the Union church, having been delayed by the recent thaw, has been resumed, and is rapidly nearing completion.

The Conservative meeting at Bureau's March 10th, was not very well attended, owing to the bad condition of the trails, but those who were fortunate enough to be present were greatly entertained by the speech given by Mr. Root.

More than two weeks ago, and now McLean had the misfortune to give his ankle a bad sprain, while on his way to the woods for a load of logs. In some way his foot caught beneath the sled, wrenching it so severely that he has not been able to walk on it since, but we hope soon to see him about again.

Owing to the scarcity of seed grain, and of the wherewithal to buy it, there will be a good deal of land for rent this spring, although a few of the farmers in this vicinity have applied to the government for seed.

Croup positively checked in 20 minutes. Dr. Shoop's 20 minute Croup Remedy acts like magic. No vomiting, nothing harsh. A simple, safe, pleasant, dependable, croup syrup. 50c. Brown's Pharmacy.

Seed Grain For Sale.

The following farmers have seed grain for sale in this district: T. P. Parcels, Penhold P. O. 30-46-27 has 75 bushels Preston spring wheat, government test 88, price $1.00. Oats 400 bushels, Ligona, government test 75, price 60c. Barley, 400 bushels two rowed, government test 64, price 75 cents per bushel. Elias Vincent, Red Deer, P. O. has 800 bushels of Banner oats, test 88, also 300 bushels of Sheffield early, government test 93, price 50 cents per bushel.

C. A. J. Sharman has for sale 150 bus. of 6 rowed barley. Price 60c. Government test 84 percent 1907 crop, but not a very good looking sample.

Tickling or dry Coughs will quickly loosen when using Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless that Dr. Shoop tells mothers to use nothing else, even for very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub give the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough and heals the sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Demand Dr. Shoop's, Take no other.

The Board of Trade and Canadian Emigration.

The following very important article appeared in the London Times, England, weekly edition of February 7th, dealing with the pernicious system of passage broker's license on emigrants coming to this country. It should be read by every thinking person.

At the Guildhall, on Friday, before Alderman Sir Marcus Samuel, Dr. Ginsburg, counsel acting on behalf of the Board of Trade, opposed an application made by Mrs. Elise Kauffman Kendall for a passage broker's licence. The lady had fulfilled the obligation to give the Board of Trade notice of her application, and the Board now opposed.
Dr. Ginsburg said, so far as his recollection went, this was the first case of the kind that had arisen, and he was not quite clear what the procedure should be.

Sir Marcus suggested that the more convenient course would be for Mr.
Tindall Davies, counsel for the applicant, to make his statement, and then
Dr. Ginsburg could reply.

Mr. Davies said that the application was made by this lady for the renewal of a licence under the Merchant Shipping Act. It was in reference to a license he had held for 15 years as an emigration agent, and which was renewable annually. The opposition of the Board of Trade arose out of certain conversations between this lady's son-in-law being away ill at the time—and a representative of Mr. J. J. Walker, the superintendent of the Emigration Department of the Canadian Government. He was not quite sure whether the objection of the Board of Trade was on the ground that the lady guaranteed contracts, or whether it was in consequence of advertisements setting forth that 5,000 labourers, domestic and other servants, were required for Canada immediately. At any rate, advertisements had appeared in the daily papers—notably the Daily Telegraph—in that form for years. Mrs. Kendall, however, had not followed the custom of advertising until recently, reading that of another emigration agency, and having made inquiries, she sent her son to Mr. Walker, with him discussing the matter. According to his (Mr.
Davies's) instructions Mr. Walker indicated to this young man that his mother was very much behind the times in not advertising guaranteeing contracts to labourers and others who went out to Canada, and it was after that that Mrs. Kendall began to advertise. The advertisements appeared for eight months without question, when on December 5 last—Mrs. Kendall being then away ill—Mr. Walker issued a circular letter pointing out to emigration agents that at present the demand for labour in Canada was relaxed, and requesting them to advise intending emigrants not to sail till April next, and then only if employment was secure. Mr. Just, second in command to Mr. Walker, called at Mrs. Kendall's office in Eldon street and saw the son, and explained to him that the advertisement that was then appearing ought to be modified in some form, and young Mr. Kendall suggested that from the announcement
"5,000 wanted immediately" the last word should be withdrawn. Mr. Kendall was under the impression that the suggestion was accepted, and thereafter acted upon it.

The Hon. Charles Russell, who attended on behalf of the Dominion Government, rose to make an observation, but Dr. Ginsburg objected that his friend had no locus standi. The matter was one between the Board of Trade and this lady, and he failed to see that any third party had a right to interfere.

Mr. Davies.—The Dominion Government, so far as I am aware, do not desire to press this for one moment.

Dr. Ginsburg.—I must protest against an observation of that kind. The Dominion Government, I venture to say,
have no more to do with this than any one in the street.

Mr. Russell.—I think it is only fair to say that these proceedings arise as a result of our communication with the Board of Trade with a view of protecting intending emigrants.

Mr. Davies continued his address, and said that some further modification of the advertisements was demanded by Mr. Walker, especially the offer of employment for any class other than agriculturists, and even for the latter not promising an opening till the spring. A document from the Minister of the Interior for Canada was afterwards circulated, setting forth the conditions under which emigrant passenger were allowed to land—one being that they had either employment or friends to go to at once, and sufficient cash to maintain them in the interval. On December 18, Mrs. Kendall having returned to business, the advertisements were altered in such a manner as she thought would meet the requirements of the department, but she eventually received a letter in which she was informed that, owing to the misleading nature of her advertisements, the department would discontinue paying her the customary bonus as from January 1.

Sir Marcus.—I should like to know from mere curiosity what amount the bonus is.

Dr. Ginsburg.—£1 with each emigrant. From the Canadian Government that is.

Mrs. Kendall, continued Mr. Davies, wrote to Mr. Walker stating that she thought she had complied with his requirements, and asking for an interview in order that the matter might be fully explained. To that letter there was no reply, but she received an intimation from the Board of Trade that they should oppose her application for a renewal of her licence on the ground

that she had continued to insert advertisements—in spite of warnings—which were inaccurate as to the employment open to emigrants, which action on her part was likely to embarrass the Canadian Government.

Dr. Ginsburg said that in regard to a friend's statements there were no common ground, but on certain matters they distinctly differed. For instance, the idea that Mr. Just was satisfied with the slight alteration in the advertisements mentioned was quite wrong. The position of the passenger broker was a very responsible one. He had to be licensed and to satisfy the Board of Trade that he was carrying on his business properly. He had to enter into a bond of £1,000 to secure due performance of his work, and there were stringent regulations as to the appointment of agents. Whenever the business was not properly conducted, it was the duty of the Board of Trade to come forward and oppose renewal of the licence. The class of persons to whom these advertisements were addressed were not people with a great knowledge of the world, and therefore were likely to take the greatest possible in their lives and uproot themselves from their native country at the gain of the persons who inserted the advertisements, and in order that the Canadian Government, in addition to a certain percentage from the steamship companies. An advertisement appeared in the Daily Telegraph five days after warning was given in the following terms—"Canada.—
Free fares for 5,000 labourers wanted immediately. Wages from 8s. 6d. a day; work guaranteed. Pamphlet showing work and wages free. Railway men, agriculturists, artisans in great demand." Inquiries were referred to Mrs. Kendall's office. Mr. Just made it quite clear to young Mr. Kendall that the omission of the word "immediately" would not be sufficient, but that the whole character of the advertisement was misleading. It was felt that for the time being it was not desirable for persons to emigrate on the strength of statements contained in these advertisements. Canada, which had probably suffered temporarily from the financial crisis in the United States, would no doubt quickly recover, its recuperative powers being tremendous, but there was reason for the time being for issuing warnings to passage brokers, and to take objection to these advertisements.

Sir Marcus Samuel.—The case has assumed a far graver aspect than I anticipated. It seems to me a most serious thing if the Government of Canada have been giving bonuses of £1
a head to people who use every ruse they can to attract immigrants. After this the Dominion government will probably consider whether the system should not be modified.

Dr. Ginsburg.—In justice to the Dominion Government, they have stopped paying bonuses to this office.
Sir Marcus.—And not a day too soon.
Mr. Russell.—And under these advertisements we have inserted one in the character of a warning to the public.

Sir Marcus.—That does not relieve my mind. The Government has been in the habit of paying this bonus
to passenger agents all and sundry.
In fact they paid £1 a head to individuals holding out inducements to people to immigrate. Do I understand that the Dominion Government have withdrawn bonuses from everybody?

Mr. Russell.—No, Sir; but the class is limited.

Sir Marcus.—I could understand
it if they paid it to the immigrants themselves, but to pay it to a passage-broker is a direct incentive to this kind of advertisement.

Formal evidence was given and correspondence between Mrs. Kendall and the Canadian Immigration Department and the Board of Trade read,
from which it appeared that objection
was taken to advertisements promising immediate employment to railway men labourers and artisans. It is said to be misleading to advertise that 5,000
labourers were wanted.

Mr. Gerald Kauffman Kendall, giving evidence on behalf of his mother said,
in reply to the magistrate, that emigrants were notified of the payment of the bonus, because they had to fill in a form respecting it. He informed Mr. Just that what he was complaining of was done also by the Salvation Army.

Dr. Ginsburg.—And did he not reply that they were acting under an arrangement with the government of British Columbia? It struck me he was rather protecting their interests,
but I do not remember his saying that.
Mr. Davies asked if Mrs. Kendall was found to have committed a technical offence she would not be punished
so severely as she would her license refused.

Sir Marcus.—I feel great difficulty in dealing with this case, because one is always reluctant to inflict a wrong on an individual, and it does appear to me in this matter that the system is at fault. The Board of Trade has taken a right course in raising a question of enormous importance, and I believe my colleagues, as myself, had no idea that in granting these passenger licenses we were aiding a system which gives a direct incentive to misrepresentation. It is a very strong inducement to people to insert advertisements such as we have heard of, when for each immigrant they secure they get a capitation grant of £1 per head, and I fail to see any difference between the crimps who obtained sailors for ships in the old days and this distribution of agents broadcast over the kingdom to tout for emigrants. I must hold that these advertisements, after due warning had been given, were not fully justified
and in the hope that this case will act
as caution, I feel it my duty to refuse this license. Of course it is open to Mrs. Kendall to apply again, and after an interval, should the Board of Trade raise no objection, the license might be granted.

"The Pharmacy of Quality."

of course, is the most important part of our business, and it is the most exacting—hence a responsibility we do not shrink from.

We do business on the principle that you cannot be too particular with medicine, and our business of dispensing continues to grow because the care we take is the same as if we were putting the medicine up for our own family's use. Bear this in mind when you require any medicine.

A CAST IN THE EYE

Will disfigure a child for life, if not corrected. More than the eye itself will lose its vision. Though the reason may not seem clear to you at first, yet this disfigurement can be removed and corrected by properly fitted glasses. The eye will gradually assume its normal position. THIS can only be accomplished when the child is very young.

Consult our optician Mr. GAETZ and he will tell you what can be done.

Evarts.

The A. F. A. Concert held on St. Patrick's night was a great success. Messrs. Brook and Matchett with their election and F. Hall with comic songs delighted the audience. Mr. Lisk on the violin was called on for encores.

The largest gathering ever seen in the village was on Thursday last when the annual election of officers for the Liberal Association took place. Owing to the rotten way in which government funds have been spent on the roads hereabouts the people turned out on mass and completely whitewashed the retiring president trio which he had set up for election. Owing to the volume of idle evaporation which escaped from the disappointed, we expect to hear of things happening soon. The results were J. H. Robinson elected over E. S. Hussey for President, Robt. Armstrong over R. Faulks for Vice, J. W. W. Slack over Hayden for Seco. Treas.

The next meeting of the A. F. A. will be held on Saturday the 28th.

A BRAND NEW DOLLAR BILL.

A farmer out in Kansas, About five years ago,

Went into town one day to spend Some of his hard earned "dough."

"And in a hurry," and just To show his printing skill,

He printed his initials On A brand new dollar bill.

He spent that dollar that same day Down at the village store.

He thought 'twas gone for ever then, And he'd see it no more.

But long before that year rolled by One day he went to fill

A neighbor's order, and received That same one dollar bill.

Once more he spent that dollar bill In his own neighborhood,

Where it would do himself and friends The most amount of good.

Four times in two years it came back, As some bad pennies will,

And each time he'd go out and spend That marked one dollar bill.

Had he been wise that dollar might Be in his town to-day.

But just about two years ago He sent it far away.

He sent it where he received it then He knew he'd never see it.

I know have got it still, For 'twas to a mail order house

He sent his dollar bill.

No more will that marked dollar come Into the farmer's hands,

And nevermore will it help pay The taxes on his land.

He put it where it never can, Its work in life fulfilled.

He brought about the living death Of that one dollar bill.

SPRING IS NEAR AT HAND!

But we are prepared for it by having our Spring Goods in stock.

Our Drill stock has never before been equalled; we have the very latest improvements.

We never have any out-of-date or carried over goods, because our stock is turned over several times in the year, on account of our having the transferring for the North branches.

This feature alone is worth considering, because you are not only assured of the latest improvements, but you can also get repairs without delay or expense.

Just think these things all over before placing your order for Spring goods.

Then, again, if you settle by Note, you have not got to worry about it being peddled all over the country, discounted in Banks, &c. It remains in our office until paid, and then you take it away with you, and thus you are not called upon to be continually making new acquaintances, or arranging with strangers for the carrying of your past due accounts. You buy from us, and you know we shall be here at settlement time.

Think it over, and when you know you can secure the best goods, and get the best treatment for the same money, we feel sure we shall fill that Spring order for you.
